ENVITEC

by Honeywell

EnviteC has been developing and producing highly specialized products for the medical technology and equipment sector for almost 20 years. Since 2006, EnviteC has been part of the Honeywell technology group, one of the largest sensor manufacturers worldwide.

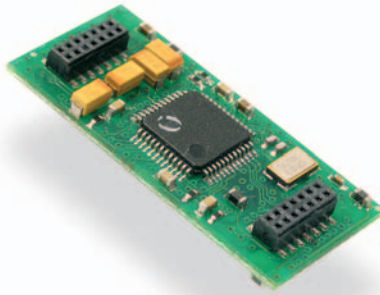

Germany as a business base

Our pioneering research and development work is always carried out in a highly market-oriented manner. All development activities and most production operations are based in Germany - providing the highest quality standards. EnviteC thereby evidences that highest quality products can not only be developed in Germany, but also produced cost-effectively

Cutting-edge technology

In addition to the work carried out by EnviteC's own development department, which represents a cornerstone of the company, EnviteC also collaborates closely with technological institutes in Germany and abroad.

The EnviteC OEM philosophy

EnviteC as an OEM partner to renowned medical equipment companies

Recognizing the needs of the market

Henry Ford stated that, "If there is any one secret of success, it lies in the ability to get the other person's point of view and see things from his angle." This approach is evident in our daily activities, our innovations, and especially in our dealings with customers. EnviteC aims to offer its customers the best possible solutions at all times - second-best is never good enough.

Developments for the future

The customer is the measure of all things at EnviteC. Our customers' requirements and wishes drive our research and development. In the highly competitive market for medical equipment, we offer our customers well-conceived state-of-the-art OEM solutions and products.

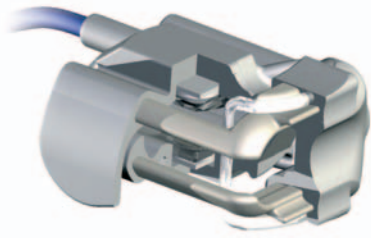

Customized components for unique products

EnviteC develops customized OEM sensors and technologies tailored precisely to its customers' design and technological specifications. We offer protected, flexible OEM solutions which will always meet your expectations in terms of quality, performance and design.

A broad product portfolio

Our customers operate in the most diverse fields of medical technology. EnviteC's broad range of products is therefore highly appreciated - by customers and users alike.

EnviteC expertise keeps you ahead of the competition

Product development and research

Continuous improvement is key to lasting success. This adage is particularly true in the field of medical technology. EnviteC has the courage to systematically pursue new avenues in order to develop new products for its customers.

Product diversity and market orientation

Because EnviteC's customers come from a variety of medical sectors, as a leading technology company we develop modules and sensors for a broad range of applications and requirements.

A wealth of experience

Behind every product there is always at least one good idea. Every product from EnviteC is the result of knowledge and experience acquired over almost 20 years.

Special solutions

As a manufacturer of special sensors and modules, we have long impressed our customers with innovations that are subsequently emulated by others. Our new autoclavable SpO₂ sensors are a prime example.

The best market position with EnviteC OEM quality

What sets EnviteC OEM modules and sensors apart?

Standing out from the competition

With products from EnviteC you are always one step ahead of the market. This enables you to meet all the market's challenges, even surpassing users' expectations. Consequently, EnviteC products also strengthen your market position.

The long-term approach

Fit for the future: In EnviteC, our customers have a reliable, fair and punctual partner which applies its innovative capacities in a targeted manner in order to advance its customers' interests into the future with excellent products and expertise.

Promoting brand awareness

Protect your investments. With EnviteC modules and encoded sensors developed specifically for your purposes, your equipment will always be up to the high-performance OEM quality standard - EnviteC technologies guarantee the use of OEM components. As a result, users will always associate your brand with quality, durability and reliability.

In touch with practical needs

EnviteC products in practice

Our highly customer-oriented approach is readily apparent in all our products. EnviteC's development and production are geared to practical requirements and users' needs - simple operation, fast and reliable results and good value for money, to name but a few.

Premium quality

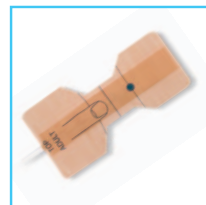

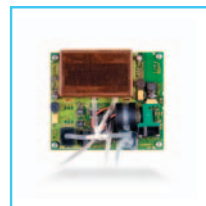

As a certified manufacturer of medical products, we develop and manufacture all our products in accordance with the applicable EN ISO 9001 : 2000 und EN ISO 13485 : 2003 standards. Our products are complying with several international standards, such as CE and FDA. We are able to meet all requirements and the most stringent standards at all times.

Ongoing dialog with manufacturers and users

Whatever the problem, we are always there to listen and to ask the right questions. Such a dialog is vital to developing sustainable and effective solutions. We respond to all inquiries in the same open, rapid and competent manner - however unusual the task required.

From development to After Sales

For many manufacturers, service only comes into play when problems arise. For EnviteC, service begins the very first time we come into contact with the customer - and it continues throughout our products' entire life cycle. At the same time, our customers always benefit from EnviteC's principle of offering only products and solutions that meet the very highest standards in terms of quality and reliability.
